

STEP BY STEP - ILLEGAL LOGGING DUE DILIGENCE SERVICES - EUDR

ARE YOU COVERED BY THE EUDR?

The European Union Deforestation Regulation (EUDR) will begin to apply from 30 December 2025. If you trade in timber, coffee, cocoa, soy, palm oil, rubber or cattle-related products, the EUDR may apply to your business.

What does the EUDR require?

EUDR Due Diligence System

You must establish a structured system to assess and minimise deforestation risk before placing products on the EU market.

Supply Chain Traceability

You must trace products to the exact production plot using verified geolocation data and confirm they are deforestation-free.

Audit-Ready Record Keeping

You must keep detailed records of sourcing, risk assessment, and compliance declarations and be ready for EU scrutiny at any time.

What are the consequences for non-compliance?

Significant financial penalties

Loss of access to the EU market

Reputational damage

Disruptions to supply chain and operations

HOW WE CAN HELP

EUDR Due Diligence System Design

- Develop structured due diligence procedures tailored to your operations
 - Integrate EUDR criteria into procurement and compliance workflows
 - Align systems with risk assessment, mitigation, and declaration requirements
-

Supply Chain Mapping and Traceability

- Assist in tracing products to their production plots using geolocation data
 - Support with gathering and verifying sourcing information
 - Apply risk analysis tools to assess origin and supplier exposure
 - Help communicate with upstream suppliers to fill data gaps
-

Record Keeping and Audit Support

- Prepare and review documentation required under the EUDR
 - Help draft and manage due diligence statements
 - Provide audit readiness reviews and legal support during inspections
 - Ensure long-term data retention systems meet EU expectations
-

WHY HIKARI?

Legal and practical expertise in sustainability and trade.

Scalable solutions for SME's to global supply chains.

Fixed-fee or ongoing advisory support available.

Trusted by compliance and sustainability teams.

03 9000 5701

hello@hikarisolutions.com.au